The true story of an ordinary middle-class married couple buried in over $94,000 in credit card debt who face debt collection, learn to defend themselves in court without hiring a lawyer, and force a major bank's collection attorney to dismiss its case against them. They avoid bankruptcy and they prevent collection. Every pleading (of both Plaintiff and Defendant) filed in this case is reproduced in its entirety - only the case number and names have been changed to protect the couple's privacy. What these people learned about the banking system would change their lives forever. NEW, UPDATED EDITION!!! Includes additional information about dealing with unscrupulous debt collectors -- their deceptive tactics, annoying phone calls, and various enticements designed to lure you into making yourself vulnerable to lawsuits; ALSO how the Statute of Limitations in your State can protect you from lawsuits and judgments.

This report confirms that BAA will be required to sell Stansted Airport followed by Edinburgh or Glasgow Airport. Following legal challenges to the CC's 2009 decision (ISBN 9780117064836) on the airports market, the Commission considered whether there were possible changes of circumstances that might lead to a different conclusion. The CC has, though, concluded that the sale of the airports is fully justified and that passengers and airlines would still benefit from greater competition with the airports under separate ownership, despite the current Government's decision to rule out new runways at any of the London airports. The CC has also concluded that the same timescale should remain for the sale of Stansted followed by sale of one of the Scottish airports. Stansted will be sold first as it serves the larger number of passengers and there will be a small overlap between the two sales periods.

Lies and inaccurate information are as old as humanity, but never before have they been so easy to spread. Each moment of every day, the Internet and broadcast media purvey misinformation, either deliberately or accidentally, to a mass audience on subjects ranging from politics to consumer goods to science and medicine, among many others. Because misinformation now has the potential to affect behavior on a massive scale, it is urgently important to understand how it works and what can be done to mitigate its harmful effects. Misinformation and Mass Audiences brings together evidence and ideas from communication research, public health, psychology, political science, environmental studies, and information science to investigate what constitutes misinformation, how it spreads, and how best to counter it. The expert contributors cover such topics as whether and to what extent audiences consciously notice misinformation, the possibilities for audience deception, the ethics of satire in journalism and public affairs programming, the diffusion of rumors, the role of Internet search behavior, and the evolving efforts to counteract misinformation, such as fact-checking programs. The first comprehensive social science volume exploring the prevalence and consequences of, and remedies for, misinformation as a mass communication phenomenon, Misinformation and Mass Audiences will be a crucial resource for students and faculty researching misinformation, policymakers grappling with questions of regulation and prevention, and anyone concerned about this troubling, yet perhaps unavoidable, dimension of current media systems.

"The Essential Services Commission of Victoria (ESCV or the Commission) has engaged PricewaterhouseCoopers (PwC) to estimate a 10 year BBB+ debt risk premium using the methodology the AER currently applies to extrapolate the Bloomberg BBB fair value curve (FVC). The debt risk premium should be estimated using a 20 and 40 business day averaging period, ending on and including 4 March 2013, demonstrating the maximum, minimum and average values. In addition, the ESCV requested that we provide an approximation of the incremental debt risk premium that would be required if instead the Commission were to assume credit ratings of BBB or BBB-".
